C. Virginia Master Naturalist Certification.

1. A Certified Virginia Master Naturalist is a volunteer participant who has successfully completed Fairfax Chapter training and service requirements. These requirements include one-time basic training of 40 hours minimum, advanced training of eight hours and volunteer service of 40 hours. Time spent on Fairfax Chapter leadership positions, such as serving as a Board or Committee member, counts for volunteer service hour credit.

2. Completion of the Basic Training Course requires attendance at all class sessions and field trips, as well as a score of 70% or higher on the final exam. Any missed classes must be made up within 12 months of completion of the training. If a student misses more than three class or two classes and one field trip, the student gets no credit for the course. To complete the course, the student needs to apply for a subsequent running, pay the course fee, and meet all course requirements.

---

New text

C. Virginia Master Naturalist Certification.

1. A Certified Virginia Master Naturalist is a volunteer participant who has successfully completed Fairfax Chapter training and service requirements. These requirements include one-time basic training of 40 hours minimum, advanced training of eight hours and volunteer service of 40 hours. Time spent on Fairfax Chapter leadership positions, such as serving as a Board or Committee member, counts for volunteer service hour credit.

2. Completion of the Basic Training Course requires attendance at all class sessions and field trips, a score of 70% or higher on the final exam, and completion of all other requirements set forth at the beginning of the course session by the training committee. If a student misses more than three classes or two classes and one field trip, the student gets no credit for the course; for fewer missed sessions, the classes must be made up within 12 months of the end of the basic training course. Following failure to meet course completion requirements, a student must apply for a subsequent basic training, pay the course fee, and meet all requirements for that session.